YEAR 5 – NO. 23 / MARCH 2015

ITS TIME TO CELEBRATE. THREE YEARS OF CASA IMERYS

Offering courses and opportunities which change people's lives, the Casa Imerys celebrates three years of history in 2015. And, even in such a short period of time, the results are impressive: more than five thousand people were assisted.

A house, located in the district of Vila do Conde, has already offered various courses such as Information Technology, Children's Art Workshop, and Dancing for the elderly.

"I put my eight-year-old daughter in the school reinforcement and she has really made progress. She learned to read more easily and when she has no class, she keeps asking me if we will go there", says Mrs. Márcia Angelim.

Working since 2012, the Casa Imerys will now undergo an expansion, to extend its service with a new unit, located on the Industrial District neighborhood. The second Casa Imerys will have the monthly attending capacity for 130 people, with activities such as school reinforcement, handicraft and news: hydro gymnastic classes for the elderly and pregnant women, in addition to the workshop 'Tamborzinhos do Conde' (Little Drums of Conde), for children who wish to ingress in the cultural and musical project.

"It comes to make the access to the opportunities that the project offers easier for the remainder of the Barcarena population, from communities such as Curuperé, Maricá and Dom Manoel," explains Ivelene Moura, Community Relations analyst.

KAOLIN IN CERAMICS

World leader in mineral solutions for the industry, the Imerys Group invests in various applications for their products. Kaolin is used wisely in the ceramics industry, providing a high quality to the final product. The mineral is present in the composition of cups, tiles, plates and in other ceramic products which are a part of our routine. "Researches are constantly carried out to prove the efficiency of using kaolin in ceramics and also seeking to develop new solutions", asserts René Sousa (photo on the side), new business manager of Imerys.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBIT HIGHLIGHTS THE SOCIAL ASPECT

To support the development of photography in Pará, Brazil and expand society's knowledge about the actions it develops in the social scope, Imerys Capim holds in 2015 a photographic exhibit, called the "Expedição Imerys".

The focus is in the company's social projects, that seek to develop the generation of revenue and the quality of life of the communities which are located in the municipality of Barcarena, where the Imerys kaolin refining plant is located.

The professional and amateur photographers interested in participating in the selection, must apply to the company's website (www.imerysnopara.com.br). The photographers selected will take a trip to Barcarena where they will have the opportunity of photographing the activities of the company's projects.

The images will be evaluated by a jury comprised by the local photographer who is the project manager, Rafael Araújo, the General Manager of Caulim of South America, Marcos Moreira and one more invited guest.

In the end, 20 photographs will integrate the exhibit which will pass through Belém and, later, by Argentina and France. Enroll, participate and follow the news at instagram @expedicaoimerys.
